OFFICER AWARENESS:

- Nothing to report.

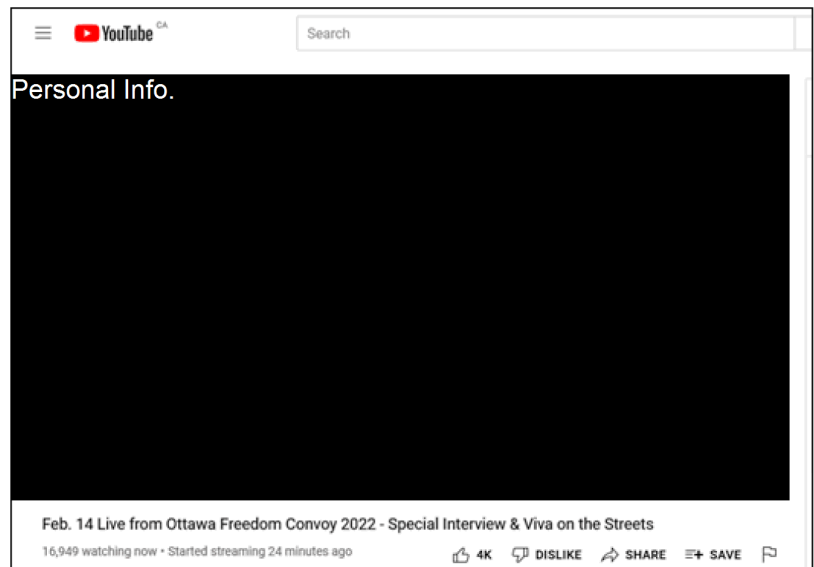

SOI/PPPOI UPDATES:

- Nothing to report.

ADDITIONAL INTEL UPDATES:

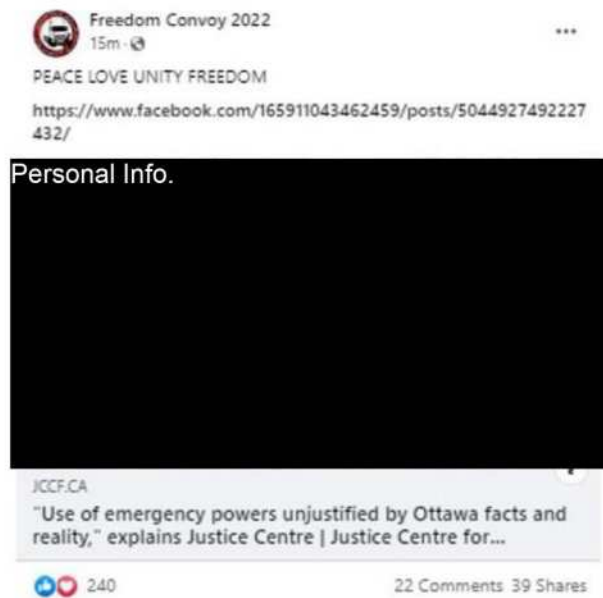

- PM TRUDEAU has invoked the Emergencies Act, which provides the federal government with extra powers to address the Freedom Convoy protest (illegal blockades).
- CIG OSINT identified a live stream interview of [Personal] from a hotel room posted to YouTube and Rumble by [Personal] around 1310hrs. [Personal] introduces himself as the [Personal Info. [Personal Info. [Personal Info. who he met through [Personal Info. [Personal Info. is visibly injured in the video and he mentions he was moving between command centres, which are spread out among hotels, and slipped on ice and broke both of his ankle bones and had surgery a few days ago. [Personal] goes on to discuss the numbers, mission and messaging of the Freedom Convoy. [Personal] then continues to stream while walking around downtown Ottawa.
 - Numbers: [Personal] states there was an online registration to determine the number of truckers formally part of the movement but he has not visited that command centre yet and does not know if they have a final tally.
 - Funds: [Personal] states that over a million dollars was transferred by GOFUNDME to the convoy organizers but was blocked by TD bank. He continues that they have lawyers attempting to unfreeze the GIVESENDGO funds and they expect to be able to distribute Bitcoin funds from [Personal] to the drivers to help them stay afloat, stay comfortable and have food.

- CIG OSINT located the following:
 - A Freedom Convoy Press Conference was held at 15:00

Key Points:

Brian Peckford states the government should not be considering the Emergencies Act before engaging in dialogue with the organizers. He claims this is government overreach against peaceful demonstrators and that the government has not proved this is necessary or justified. He hopes other Premiers and Members of Parliament will speak out. He said "...We are putting the Prime Minister and the Government of Canada on notice: if they move ahead with what we understand from the press as they are going to do later today, is to enact this Declaration of Emergency and then bring it to the Parliament of Canada, that we will stand strong as we have to be to oppose these unnecessary moves against the freedoms and liberties of every Canadian.” When asked if Ottawa could come to the same end as Coutts, Peckford responds “We will hold the line.”

Personal did not speak but was asked about the arrests in Coutts and whether or not there were protestors in Ottawa with firearms in their trucks or vehicles. After Pers responded “I don’t believe they do” the crowd began shouting “lies” and the press conference ended.
